By raiding parties that might be achieved under cover of darkness. The gambling rooms of "The Paris" are approached only through a long, narrow hallway, near the outer end of which is stationed a Chinese, whose ostensible purpose there is the dispensing of soft drinks and candy. It is the belief of officials, however, that he is posted there as a lookout.

"The County Line Den," which lies exactly on the line between Contra Costa and Alameda counties, is reached through an alley way which leads along the Alameda county side to a rear doorway, which, together with the rest of the building, is in Contra Costa county.

"The Paris" is located at 11 San Pablo avenue, El Cerrito, and "The County Line" about a block away on the same street. Strictly speaking, these places, which are on the west side of San Pablo avenue, are not within the limits of El Cerrito, which lies entirely east of that thoroughfare.

NAVY AND ARMY JOIN SEARCH FOR MISSING FLYERS

Three army airplanes were started three were forced to return

because of bad weather.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 14.—The navy

joined the army today in the weekend search for the missing aviators,

Col. Francis C. Marshall and Lieut.

Charles L. Webber.

There are now thirty-six planes of the two branches of the service in the hunt for the missing men.

Cavalry is beating through the barren Santa Rita mountains and Indian runners are trailing over the desert in the hope of finding them.

There is little hope of finding them alive, officials said today, unless they are being cared for at some remote spot, far from civilization and away from means of communication.

A system of markers for airplanes is being urged along the border, as a means to prevent similar accidents. The government has spent thousands of dollars in searching for lost aviators here but not a cent has been spent toward making the air lanes safe over the desert, it is said.

Col. Francis Marshall and Lieut.

without a trace. Thus far the largest and most efficiently organized manhunt in the country has failed in its mission and the desert continues to guard its secret.

Plans today were being made to fly over the Gulf of California, between Lower California and the mainland of Mexico. Reports were received here late yesterday that a mysterious plane was seen last week flying over the mouth of the Colorado river.

The country around the Gulf of California is one of the wildest and most unpopulated districts on the North American continent. There are no railroads, telephones or other forms of communication, and few wagon roads. The shores of the gulf are dotted with sparse settlements of Mexican or Japanese fishermen, but the desert and mountains that stretch inland are practically uninhabited.

If the aviators fell in this district and were uninjured, there is a possibility that they are still alive, provided they have been able to obtain sufficient food and water.

There also is a possibility that the plane fell in the gulf and the two aviators drowned.

Fourteen Blocks

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEASER WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

THE NOSE of Mary's little unidentified lamb, famed in song and story as an educated young sheep, must be quite out of joint today.

All because of the persistency

of Xerxes, a diminutive Alsatian

of uncertain descent, the pet and companion of Dolly, who the father affects the eight o'clock train, otherwise, otherwise the Alameda "dinky."

This morning Dolly's father and Dolly stepped upon the car.

Dolly's father was going to work and Dolly, who boasts a modest six years, was on her way to school. Behind the two stalked unnoticed, Xerxes.

The car started before the presence of Xerxes was discovered. At the next corner he was ejected by Dolly's father. Two blocks later the car stopped for more customers and he but not least to board was Xerxes.

At the next block he was again

ejected. Another two blocks and another gathering of six-centers board the train. At the end of the line hiding behind the long skirt of a comely stenographer was Xerxes.

One block later he was intrusted to the care of a kindly gentlewoman who elected to hold

Xerxes until the car was on its way. The election was not ratified by Xerxes, however, who stepped upon the platform. The car came to a stop. Dolly's father alighted, so did Dolly, so did

Xerxes, and as the Red Tooner-ville careened around the curve toward Oakland, father and daughter and Xerxes were trugging steadily toward home. A of living and having his desires

NEW BOULEVARD PLANNED TO JOIN Foothill Drive BAY AND HILLS

Scenic Road Through Alameda to Foothill Drive Approved.

ALAMEDA, Dec. 14.—That a scenic route rivaling anything in the State of California, extending from the shores of Bay Farm Island through San Lorenzo and over the Skyline boulevard in Oakland may be available at an early date as the result of a conference held in the office of Mayor Davis in Oakland yesterday with C. E. Hickok, city manager, and Mayor Frank Otis of Alameda, is announced this morning by Hickok.

The highway as proposed, the city manager points out, besides being a valuable scenic extension, would connect Alameda with the back bay country and assist in relieving the present traffic congestion at Foothill Boulevard and East Fourteenth street.

balloon which was torn from its moorings near San Fernando, twenty miles north of Los Angeles, recently, just before Richard Kerwood, balloonist, was to use it in a "stunt" for a motion picture, drifted to Honolulu and beyond, according to reports received here.

Kerwood has a letter from Stuart Campbell, diver, at Honolulu, stating he saw a balloon he thought probably was Kerwood's, pass over the Hawaiian metropolis and into the west, more than ten days ago.

Burnett Hamilton, city engineer of Alameda, the length of the highway would be 5.46 miles and cost approximately $43,000. Of this distance the city of Oakland would own 1.28 miles, the county 2.46 miles and Alameda 1.72 miles.

An appropriation of $15,000 was requested by the city officials to cover Oakland's share of the expense.

W. W. Harmon, city engineer of Oakland, has been instructed by Mayor Davis to consult with Hickok on the project.

FILM STARS FACE QUICK DECAPITATION NARCOTIC SUPPLY

Woolwine to Probe Hollywood Angles of Dope Exposure in New York.

By ROBT. A. DONALDSON, United Press Staff Correspondent. LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—Eight film stars, branded as drug addicts when their names were found in books seized in a New York narcotic raid, may be called by District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine to disclose the source of their supply.

There is a possibility, officials indicated, that the underworld gang believed to have freed Clara Phillips, "hammer sledge," may be unearthed through disclosures of these or other drug addicts.

Clara is declared to have had powerful friends in the "hooded underworld," and these people, it is believed by officials, may also have been dealing in "dope."

"I shall be guided by facts and records of the New York nationwide dope ring, with its supposed ramifications in Hollywood, in determining whether or not to reopen the Taylor investigation as well," Woolwine said today.

"We have no direct evidence that a dope ring was responsible for Taylor's death. That's what we want to find out," he added.

William Desmond Taylor was mysteriously shot to death here nearly a year ago, and after prominent actresses, whose night clothing had been found in his home had been questioned, suspicion finally fastened upon a narcotic peddling gang from Los Angeles.

SUBSIDY ALONE NOT SUFFICIENT ROTARIANS TOLD

Speaker Says Other Changes in U. S. Navigation Laws Are Needed.

The alleged inability of the ship subsidy bill to overcome the handicaps imposed upon American shipping by other laws on the statute books, was told to members of the Oakland Rotary club today at their luncheon at the Hotel Oakland, by Guy W. Wolf.

Wolf spoke on "Will the Ship Subsidy Give Us a Merchant Marine?" and discussed national water transportation from many angles. He declared a subsidy of any industry out of the general treasury to be uneconomical, but from a military necessity point of view, advocated an unlimited subsidy to provide training for naval reserve.

AD FOR SHIPPING.

He urged:

- 1.—Subsidy only for fast combination freight and passenger liners that could be converted over-night into transports and auxiliary cruisers.
- 2.—Enrollment of all sailors and officers of such ships in the naval reserve, on the pay roll of the navy.
- 3.—The navy to operate the ship operators of a part of the labor burdens.
- 4.—Require all men on such ships to be American citizens.
- 5.—Repeal the LaFollette seamen's law for all shipping.
- 6.—Permit any vessel to be registered and operated under the American flag.
- 7.—Compel ship operators accepting subsidy to write down the book value of their ships to market or replacement values, thus eliminating water in present capitalization of the companies.
- 8.—Under strict government supervision of operations and management, guarantee fair return upon investment in subsidized ships.

"The laws requiring ships flying the American flag to have been built in the United States, and the law imposing excessive labor costs upon the American ship operator cost the shippers millions of dollars every year in excess of the operating costs of their British competitors," said Wolf.

New Cardinals Given Red Hats

ROME, Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Public blessing by Pope Pius of the eight new cardinals took place in St. Peter's today when, at the first public consistory of the pontificate of Pius XI, the recently created princes of the church received from the pontiff the red hat and the rochet, insignia of their elevation. Cardinal Casanova was absent, he being in Toledo.

Today's consistory was the first held for many years in the hall of beatifications, which has been closed during the restoration of the ceiling.

In the throng that hastened to St. Peter's were men in formal attire, women in black dresses and lace mantillas, papal diplomats, members of the Roman aristocracy and the more plainly dressed monks and nuns.

When the pontiff entered, borne from his private apartments in the Vatican in the sedia gestatoria (chair of command), he was received by the strains of the "Tu es Petrus." Pius was accompanied by his entire court.

Behind the papal chair came all the great functionaries of the Vatican, as well as the cardinals and prelates in their gorgeous robes. New members of the Sacred College were led by Cardinal Vannuti, strong and erect, notwithstanding his 56 years. In the procession were the hereditary officers of the papal court, Prince Colonna and Prince Orsini, assistants to the pontiff, who preceded and followed the pope into the hall.

The cardinals opened the consistory by kissing the pope's hand, after he had taken his seat. Then, as they resumed their kneeling posture before the pope, the master of ceremonies drew over the shoulders of each the magnificent scarlet silk coat of a cardinal, and the pontiff, holding the red hat over their heads for a few moments, repeated the words of presentation to their high office.

IRISH FACTIONS DIAMOND DEAR PACT TO END WAR

Committee Chosen By Senate to Work For Cessation of Hostilities.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. DUBLIN, Dec. 14.—Further talk of peace between the factions in Ireland is heard as Christmas approaches. Action taken by the new senate of the free state Tuesday in appointing a committee to work for the immediate cessation of hostilities has developed some indications that a considerable section of the Republican party is willing to treat for peace, and that the rank and file is not far from the same opinion.

The summing up of all the Sinn Féin clubs in Dublin, Cork and county today to debate the question is pointed to as significant, especially as, although the clubs are composed of both treaty supporters and republicans, it is the latter who sent out the press notifications for Sunday's meeting.

DUBLIN, Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The cost of installing the new governor general of the Irish free state in the former viceregal lodge was the subject of strong protests from the laborites in the Dail Eireann. The protests came during the debate on the expenditure of £1,000,000 in addition to the estimates of £37,000,000 passed by the former diet and approved by the present chamber.

The estimates would provide £10,000 for the upkeep of the viceregal lodge and the governor-general's establishment. The laborites objected to this price for "palace" and had moved to omit the whole with the exception of £1000.

ALAMEDA, Dec. 14.—A series of holiday devotional services are to be given by the Young People's Society of the First Baptist church in this city for the men stationed on Goat Island, according to an announcement made today by the Rev. L. Hansen, acting pastor.

The first of the series will be given next Sunday afternoon when a varied program will be presented consisting of short devotional services, instrumental numbers and selections by the men's quartet of the society.

Boy Badly Hurt As Auto Jack Breaks

ALAMEDA, Dec. 14.—William Jones, thirteen-year-old Alameda boy residing at 1500 Elm street, is recovering today from a severe injury to his left eye sustained when a jack fell while he was working under an automobile and struck him in the face late yesterday afternoon. He was given first aid treatment at the Emergency Hospital by Dr. Arthur Hieronymus.

U. S. SHIPS HANDICAPED.

"The subsidy bill would relieve the ship operator of a part of his burden, but not all. If the above ships makes 15 knots an hour it will be entitled to 15 cents per ton per 1000 miles as subsidy. If it makes six round trips to and from Liverpool a year, 36,000 miles, it will receive in subsidy $54,000. But it is burdened with $52,500 excessive charges on account of larger cost of the vessel and $8,000 excessive charge account of labor conditions under the LaFollette seamen's law, a total of $150,500. Deducting the subsidy leaves a burden of $104,500 which the British ship does not carry."

"These figures explain what is wrong with American shipping and why the ship subsidy will not create a merchant marine."

Wolf asserted that practically every country that has a subsidy is planning to abandon it as unsatisfactory and unnecessary. "In 1914, at the height of the British shipping monopoly, not more than 2 per cent of British shipping was subsidized, and not more than 6 per cent of Germany shipping received government aid."

The dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock in the Masonic Temple, Alameda avenue and Park street. It is being arranged by Kenneth Biggart, master counselor.

At its conclusion the service degree will be conferred on the honor guests. A delegation of Master Masons in the Eastbay region have been invited.

tively worried about James. I don't believe another boy ever lived who is half so awkward as he is. He is forever stumbling over everything."

"I know, dear, but you must remember that every boy passes through the awkward age. And I must say that we haven't had much to worry about the boy, yet. He's darn decent as boys go. But I remember yet how I seemed to be hands and feet along about his age. I seemed to grow too fast."

"He's been that way for a year or so, and seems to be getting worse. I wish he'd hurry and emerge into a normal young man so I could quit worrying about him and the furniture."

"Well, mother, have patience. The boy's all right. Some day soon he will be the most graceful young thing you ever did see."

"He seems to fit into his clothes so badly, too. I thought for a time it was partly the fault of the clothes. What do you think?"

"Well, I don't think we can blame the boy wholly about the way his clothes fit, or fail to fit. I think, possibly, we had better get him a new suit. I don't see how we can afford it before the first of the year, however."

JUDGES, POLICE CHIEF TO PLAN DRY LAW ACTION

Conference Called For Saturday in S. F. For Enforcing Wright Act.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—A conference of police judges, the district attorney and the chief of police to provide ways and means of enforcing and prosecuting violations of the Wright Act has been called by Presiding Judge Daniel J. O'Brien for Saturday, following well authenticated rumors that Secretary of State Frank B. Rowland would certify the act tomorrow.

If the act is certified tomorrow and goes into effect five days later, December 20.

Those who will attend the conference are Judges O'Brien, Sylvester McAttee, Lyle T. Jacobs, Sylvester Lazarus, Chief of Police Daniel J. O'Brien, District Attorney Matthew Brady and Chief David and William Clerk William Golden.

Should precedent be followed, the act probably would be a serious prohibition cases for a month or more.

Three Comets Now Afford Spectacle For Star Gazers

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 14 (By the Associated Press).—The spectacle of three comets swinging through the skies is afforded astronomers for the first time in years. To the two comets, Skjellerup's and Baade's, that have been under observation for weeks, another was added today.

The third star known as Perseus, making another visitation to our stellar system after an absence of two generations, has been sighted again.

Announcement of the re-discovery of Perseus' comet was made by the Harvard College observatory, in a cablegram from the General Bureau of Astronomical Telegrams at Copenhagen, N. Y.

A Japanese scientist, reported having spotted the wanderer on November 29. The position which he gave is south-east of the star Procyon, and about midway between the constellations Monoceros and Hydra.

In magnitude, the comet is comparatively faint, but in point of speed the daily motion was said to be fairly fast. Its flight is in a southeasterly direction.

The Harvard observatory announced also in observation from Prof. A. G. Leuschner, director of the Southern Observatory, University of California, that may change the name of Skjellerup's comet by identifying it as Baade's comet.

The latter, after a brief sojourn in our skies in 1892, swung along out of sight. If the comet attributed recently to Skjellerup, who reported it, proves to be that of Baade's, the latter will have been added to the group that have closed their orbits by reappearing. Computations by Wood, the South African astronomer, place the probable time of

GENERAL MAKES BIG ARMY PLEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—"If we ever go to war again we must be able to answer Mr. Pacifist long before we fight. Mr. Pacifist is always the nearest relative to Mr. Slacker. Any man who doesn't come to the defense of the nation doesn't deserve a nation to protect him."

This was the statement of Brigadier General U. G. McAlexander, who yesterday addressed members of the Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon yesterday at the Palace Hotel. Brigadier General McAlexander spoke in the interests of a bigger army, and warned against the tolerance of "reds" in this country.

"We, who were at the fighting front, believe that the armistice was the tragedy of a century," he said.

"Friends of the army and navy, we know, number millions. But they have little to say; they don't bestir themselves. The enemy is vigilant all the time."

perihelion passage for this comet as New Year's Day.

Baade's comet, third of the travelers through the sunny spaces that is under astronomical eyes, is making its first appearance so far as known. All indications are that it is one of those which dash once through our heavens, never to appear again.

The occasion is the annual Xmas jinks of the Ad Club. This year Mrs. Joseph N. Burroughs has arranged a charming fantasy "The Clown's Christmas," for the entertainment of the several hundred youngsters—boys and girls—who will be the guests of the Ad Club.

The entire cast is made up of talented children under the direction of Mrs. Burroughs. The event will be celebrated in the ballroom at the Hotel Oakland.

Tonight the committee arranging the affair will help Santa Claus label every gift. Mrs. Herman Johnson as the advance agent of St. Nick knows what every little boy and girl wants and it is just that present that each will receive.

Arthur T. Kinney is chairman of the Christmas jinks committee. Others include Mrs. Burroughs, Mrs. Johnson, Miss Betty Watson, Ralph Seeler, Harold Forster, Ben Tooley, W. H. Pinkston, August Lutz, Mrs. Ed Huebner, B. S. Sanders.

EASILY SATISFIED.
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—A gas oven in a bakery shop exploded recently, resulting in the death of the baker and starting a raging conflagration.

The baker viewed the flaming inferno ruefully, then his face kindled into a smile.

"By George, I just got out in time didn't I?" he said.

THOUSANDS PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO WANAMAKER

Simplicity Marks Funeral of Merchant Prince of Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—Thousands of persons, representing virtually every walk in life, did homage today at the bier of John Wanamaker, whose body lay in state from 9 o'clock until noon in Bethany Presbyterian Church, where the famous merchant had worshipped since boyhood and where he was a familiar figure at the Sunday school and other religious work.

A long line of persons formed on the streets adjacent to the church awaiting turns to pay their last tribute. Never before was there such a throng in the modest neighborhood in South Philadelphia, where the church is situated.

Many celebrated persons, including high representatives of the official life of the nation, were here to officiate as honorary pallbearers or to attend the funeral services this afternoon. The services at both the church and at the Wanamaker mausoleum in the cemetery of St. James The Less were private. Invitations were issued commensurate with the seating capacity of the church which is estimated at slightly in excess of 2000.

Simplicity marked the last rites for the merchant prince. Three hymns that were his life-long favorites were his musical requiem. They are "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me," "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and "Nearer My God To Thee." The first named was sung by the girls' quartet of Bethany; the others by the Bethany choir.

The services were conducted by the Reverend A. Gordon MacLennan, assisted by the Reverend E. R. Fitch.

PUPILS TO GIVE RECITAL.
The advanced pupils of Alexander School will give a musical recital at the 12th club, 1440 Harrison street, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The program will include a number of selections which have been chosen especially for the various participants.

Danish and German cement has almost crowded the British product out of the South American market.

LUTZ ELECTED TO HEAD LEGION

BERKELEY, Dec. 14.—Charles F. Lutz was elected commander of Berkeley Post No. 7, American Legion for the ensuing year over Mike Van Leri, at a meeting in Stiles hall last night. He will succeed Commander James Fisk at the first meeting to be held in January.

Commander-elect Lutz served as paymaster at the submarine base in San Pedro during the war. He enlisted in April, 1917, and received his discharge in November, 1919. He was stationed at San Pedro during the entire time of his enlistment.

Other officers elected were: D. A. Daly, vice-commander; Miss Ella Wall, second vice-commander; A. R. Abisgreen, adjutant; O. A. Donough Jr., treasurer; A. K. Barton, chaplain; Barney Anthony, sergeant-at-arms; and J. P. Brennan, H. H. Hucker, L. W. Wood and Joe Finner were elected to the executive committee.

Commander Fisk has been appointed chairman of the California Americanization committee and because the duties of this office will take all of his time he was forced to decline his election to the post.

SNAPPY FLAPPER PUT IN DISCARD AT PARIS SHOW

Abbreviation of Hair and Skirt Meet With Disfavor of French Artists.

LAUSANNE, Dec. 14 (By the Associated Press).—Short hair and short skirts won little favor in the fashion conference which Paul Poiret, the Paris artist, conducted at the Grand theater for the fashionable crowds gathered in Lausanne for the Near Eastern conference.

Ten Parisian manikins displayed more than 100 costumes before the exclusive audience, which registered its approval by loud applause, or was deeply silent when a manikin moved across the stage in a costume which did not meet the fancy of the audience.

It soon became apparent that the girls counted more than the costumes. It was difficult for a short-haired girl to call forth much applause from the young diplomats who constituted a greater part of the male section of the audience.

There were manikins with bobbed hair which was curled, and bobbed hair which was plastered down straight. There were both blondes and brunettes with short hair, but they attracted little attention.

All eyes were on the girls with long hair, regardless of whether it was red, golden or black. They got all the applause. And the more modest and demure the manikin was, the greater her popularity with the spectators.

The snappy flapper was clearly in the discard in the opinion of the international crowd gathered at Lausanne, and the willowy girl in extremely long skirts and with plainly dressed hair was in favor. The prime favorite among the manikins was a gray-eyed little Quakeress, with brown hair parted in the middle and simply dressed. Her suits and gowns were all gray or blue, and whenever she appeared on the stage the applause was deafening, while the more flashy manikins, walking with great affectation and dressed in conspicuous red and yellow gowns were greeted with little enthusiasm.

ELECTION FRAUD

REDDING, Dec. 14.—Charges that the election officers in some precincts opened the ballot boxes during the day to learn which candidate was being favored by the electorate are being favored by a suit brought in the superior court by Harry Donnelly of Redding, asking for a review of the election.

The complaint also charges that after the legal closing hour, persons not registered were permitted to vote; that others were instructed by election officers as to how they should vote, and that other irregularities were practiced.

NORWICH, Eng., Dec. 16.—Miss Gladys Lamber arrived here 24 hours after the time set for her wedding, but patched it up with her fiancé and was married.

No Jinx Comes At Challenge of Thirteen Club

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—After justifying the jinx in every conceivable way the Thirteen Club started on its fourteenth year of existence. The club held its 13th annual dinner on the 13th of December. The dinner began at 10 minutes to 8 and ended at 13 minutes after 12. Thirteen tables of diners, with 13 at each table, and 13 at the speakers' table, ate 13 courses, served by 13 waiters.

The diners entered the banquet hall by walking under a ladder and sat with 13 open umbrellas and 13 skeleton in the room.

Every member tempted fate in some way. Many possible superstitions were given a tryout, from breaking a mirror to tipping over the salt, and then, as the banquet ended, two members took chairs and waited for jinxes to appear and accept the challenge.

At daylight the deceased members, 13 in all, but having snatched their fingers at fate and departed.

WOBBLY STEPS LOSE CASE FOR THEIR BUILDER

A contractor, said to be an expert on steps, did not make it in the courts when he tried to win the right to build a set of steps leading to a porch at 3447 Havens street, it was decided by Judge Harry W. Puffer and he gave Daniel Driscoll judgment for only $30, the cost of painting, refusing judgment for $45 more, the cost of construction.

Driscoll brought suit against James Leonard, who produced a disinterested contractor as a witness to show that the flight of steps were far from what they should be. The witness declared the steps "started on one side of the porch and ended up on the other," that they did not have a proper foundation, the stairs were uneven, the central support was affected by subsidence and the whole flight was out of alignment.

"I feel sure we could depend upon you to tell us if any of these steps was the matter with the steps," remarked Judge Puffer in rendering judgment for the cost of painting only.

BOY SENTENCED TO DEATH.
PUEBLO, Colo., Dec. 14.—Elmer Beasley, 19 years old, was found guilty of first degree murder and the penalty was fixed at death by a jury last night after three days' trial of Beasley on the charge of murdering Oscar Kronke, manager of a local gasoline filling station in an attempted robbery on the night of September 16. Several witnesses saw the shooting and captured the boy soon after.

BRIDGE TEAS THIS WINTER.

Miss Thomas Ralph Sweet has sent out cards for the use of a series of bridge teas to be given at her home in Crocker Highlands. The affair will take place December 19, and will be in honor of M. A. Lyman Heacock, who until her marriage to Dr. Heacock a few weeks ago, was Miss Delight Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Curtis, of San Francisco. Mrs. Sweet's guests on the occasion will include about thirty of the younger matrons from both sides of the bay.

About a hundred will be guests this evening at the marriage of Miss Florence Kirkpatrick and Ralph Nicholson, of Piedmont, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Fisher of Kensington avenue. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kirkpatrick, of Los Angeles, and is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Nicholson is a son of W. E. Nicholson, of Piedmont, and a former University of California man.

The wedding blooms with autumn foliage will be used in the decoration of the home and an informal reception will follow the wedding service. Mrs. Minerva McDonald, of San Francisco, will attend the bride as matron of honor and Miss June Neala will be maid of honor. The bridesmaids are to include the Misses Lella Hecke and Ruth Janssen Merrill Brown of San Francisco to be best man and the ushers Stewart Johnson, Cort Mafors, Albert Sprout and Edward Janssen. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kirkpatrick, of Los Angeles, and is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Nicholson is a son of W. E. Nicholson, of Piedmont, and a former University of California man.

Club Women Plan Peace Propaganda

By EDNA B. KINARD.

University women of the state will be asked to train a corps of speakers who will be on call to spread the propaganda of world peace, under the auspices of the Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Herman D. Owen, a member of the faculty of Mills College and chairman of the department of international relations, offered the suggestion at a meeting of the state executive board outlining a broad program of education for the clubwomen of California. Endorsement was given the plan which will be put into effect shortly after the new year.

From many points outside of California came requests for the Arnold Day program prepared by Mrs. Owen. In the coming month the department of which she is head will emphasize such educational work that the interest roused by this historic day may be conserved. Significant books, pamphlets and magazine articles will be listed for general reading by the group which will ask local libraries to place the reading matter recommended in conspicuous places and brought to the attention of the public.

Stickers for letters suggesting peace are being used by the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Among the popular seals are those which bear the quotations, "Our American people can and will win if they get on the job. Let us wage peace" from Major General J. D. O'Rourke, and "He loves his country best who loves mankind the most," from Charles Washington.

The Sisterhood of Temple Sinai is planning a bazaar for a fund-raising sale which the members will sponsor at 438 Ninth street for five days, beginning next Monday. Furniture, ornaments, books, pictures, dishes, antiques, clothing and hats make up the desirable articles which may be purchased at small cost. A local merchant has contributed fifty new hats for boys and men which will be featured. Some curious holiday novelties will be offered the shopper. Mrs. R. F. Marcus has been the organizer for the December bazaar. She has had the cooperation of more than 100 active club members.

With a Christmas party tomorrow afternoon and a community dance tomorrow night, Laurel Parker-Teacher Association is promising a strenuous day. A real Santa Claus, with gifts to the students of the school in the form of generous sized stockings crammed with nuts, candy and apples will be on hand to keep the spirit of the Yuletide about the Christmas tree. The holiday program will be contributed by the children. The school auditorium will be used for the evening dance. Laurel members met in the last business meeting of the year today.

Mrs. Florence M. Hill, who is leaving for the city coming within the jurisdiction of the Alameda County Detention Home, will be the speaker tomorrow before Lockwood Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Hill is presenting her young charges to the community in a most interesting manner, seeking sympathy from the women on their behalf. Addressing the executive board of Alameda District, C. F. W. C. last month, she offered a plea for the founding of a boarding home where girls on small wages may find a friendly atmosphere as well as independence. She pointed out the failure of trying to place many of her wards in domestic service and reviewed the attempt which she is making of finding employment for them in the local industries.

An executive meeting of the officers of Lockwood Association will be held at 2 p. m. the half hour preceding the program being devoted to business.

With committees of mothers having a say in all matters.

GAME DINNERS

STILL POSSIBLE
IN NEW ENGLAND

Careful Conservation Keeps Wild Life From Being Driven From Woods.

BOSTON, Dec. 14.—"About this time," as the old farmers' almanacs used to say, a frequently occurring paragraph in New England country newspapers reads somewhat as follows:

"The annual game supper was held last night. There was a large attendance and the hunters provided a bounteous repast." Although the wild turkey which set the style for Thanksgiving dinners on the occasion of the Pilgrims' first Thanksgiving Day, three hundred years ago, has disappeared from New England woods, three centuries of hunting with firearms has far from exterminated the wild life of the forests in this section. Even in the immediate vicinity of Boston, deer and ruffed grouse are seen occasionally and squirrels, hares and foxes are regular inhabitants of suburban woodland.

PHEASANT FLOURISHES. The pheasant, not a native game bird but introduced some years ago, has flourished in Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire. Geese and an abundance of waterfowl pause on New England lakes and streams in their migrations.

Only in Maine does the moose persist, but bears, common in that state, are still found also in the remote sections of the mountain country in New Hampshire, Vermont and western Massachusetts. Wildcats are shot or trapped in considerable numbers every season. In the fur-bearing category raccoons, skunks and muskrats are still plentiful and, in the wilder districts, mink and otter are not infrequently found. The wolves are gone; it is only rarely that a panther is reported, and then with doubtful authenticity, and the dam-building beavers now are few.

LAWS ARE ENFORCED. That the rapidly increasing number of hunters has not more seriously depleted the supply of game in New England is due largely to conservation measures. For many years, all the states in this section have enforced as strictly as possible the closed season provisions of the game laws and, in recent open seasons, the bag limit on various classes of game birds and animals have been made increasingly smaller. Licenses also are required of all hunters and, in the case of non-residents, high fees are demanded. The game supper nowadays is of a group of hunters of the results of a day's sport. But in a few villages in the heart of the woods it takes on a greater importance. Teams of villagers, fifty to a hundred on a side, are pitted against each other in a hunt from day-turned at night, the spoils of each team are counted, and the one having the smaller amount of game pays all expenses incidental to serv-

ESTUARY BRIDGE ENDORSED BY HARBOR BOARD

Committee Goes On Records Against Further Delay.

A bridge which will permit the handling of the largest vessels now coming into San Francisco Bay, and a tube, is the solution of the Oakland estuary problem, it was unanimously agreed yesterday by the members of the Harbor Development Committee at a luncheon at the Hotel Oakland. The committee declared that definite steps should be taken to build such bridge at the Webster street site.

Committee members also expressed the opinion that the government would probably order both the Webster and Harrison street bridges open on July first, with instructions that they were not to be closed.

At the meeting, it was pointed out that the money for a bridge is in the hands of the supervisors, that the bridge plans are almost completed, that right-of-way have been purchased, and that construction could be carried out within six months.

TUBE PLAN COSTLY.
The tube plan was found to possess several disadvantages, and members emphasized the fact that a bridge, would be available for a tube, and that, if a tube were decided upon, a bond issue would be necessary, which would mean considerable delay. Also it was pointed out that the sum required for a bridge was much smaller than that demanded for a tube, and at the present time it was likely that issue would not carry.

In view of the government's order that both bridges should be put by July, and that no money is to be spent on the upper harbor until these obstructions are removed, the committee went on record as favoring the early removal of these bridges and their substitution by a bridge which would meet the government's approval. The committee members were unanimous in an opinion that a modern bridge would meet all traffic demands for the next ten years.

The meeting was presided over by Charles F. Howard, who de-

Bandit Suspects and Outfit

The outfit, shown in this picture, according to police, was arrested on a charge of criminal conspiracy, and was to be used, the police believe, by ARICK and CHARLES MARTIN (lower left), in holding up the Central Hotel at Isleton. It consists of wigs, a flash light, false mustaches, a revolver, keys, a mask, etc. Arick and Martin are being held in jail, where Martin made an unsuccessful attempt to end his life recently.

clared that the largest vessel now entering the bay, could be handled with ease through a modern bridge.

Major George L. Dillman drew attention to the fact that economy will have to be practiced in view of the necessity which will arise next year to issue bonds for harbor development, that school bonds will be required, and that other expenditures have to be faced.

Though a tube might be the ideal manner in crossing the estuary, Major Dillman said, it had to be recognized that a bridge would meet all present needs, that the money for a bridge was available, that immediate action was necessary and that even though the bridge was only a temporary expedient, construction of such a bridge was most desirable at present.

Other speakers at the meeting included C. W. Peterson, who urged immediate action, V. O. Lawrence, J. J. McElroy, Harrison S. Robinson, E. B. Field and former Governor George C. Pardee.

WIFE OF ACCUSED

WAR FOR LIBERTY

Wealthy Father-in-Law Also to Aid If Convinced Sydney Arick Innocent.

If Mrs. Sidney D. Arick, the daughter of Perry Anderson, wealthy Rio Vista farmer, becomes convinced that her husband, Sydney Arick, is innocent of the charge of criminal conspiracy, she will help him to fight the charge and so will his wealthy father-in-law. Both Anderson and his daughter made known their attitude to the Oakland police.

Arick was arrested on December 6 following the arrest of Charles Martin, who is charged with the same offense. They were picked up on information given to the Oakland police that they were planning to hold up the Central hotel in Isleton.

Arick was arrested by Police Inspectors Alex. Foster and George Burbank at Fifteenth and Jefferson streets. When they searched his room in the Sutter hotel, the inspectors found what they term a very good burglar's or stick-up man's outfit. It included a flash light, revolver, club, mask, keys, wigs and automobile license numbers.

Martin attempted to end his life on Tuesday evening in his cell in the city prison by hanging himself. He is now at the Emergency hospital recovering from the effects.

Until the day before Thanksgiving the Aricks resided in this city at 215 Hume place, but since then Mrs. Arick has been visiting with her parents at Rio Vista, coming here with her father after Arick's arrest. Arick says that he and his wife are not separated.

The new ordinance will provide for a commission composed of nine citizens, with Hickok and Locke acting as advisory members without a vote.

WAR FOR LIBERTY

Wealthy Father-in-Law Also to Aid If Convinced Sydney Arick Innocent.

The storm, which for more than a week has caused general rain and unsettled conditions in California, has passed over, and fair weather is the prediction for the next 24 hours.

The precipitation has been generally beneficial. With rain has come a heavy snowfall in the mountains, and there was in the ground at Summit this morning more than a hundred inches. This insures a good pack for water accumulation, and is regarded as favorable for this season of the year. Rain was general in the State during the last 24 hours, extending through to San Diego, which point up to the present had received but little moisture from the storm.

The rainfall reported for the last 24 hours in the principal California cities was as follows: Oakland, .32; San Francisco, .15; Los Angeles, .60; San Diego, .36; San Luis Obispo, .42; San Jose, .49; Sacramento, .32; Fresno, .32; Red Bluff, .19; Eureka, .61.

GERMANY AIDING JAPAN AVIATION, U. S. ACE AVERS

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 14.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, American flying ace, in a newspaper interview here declared that Germany is helping Japan develop aviation "while Americans are content with a few experiments by the army and navy."

"In spite of treaty stipulation that Germany shall not manufacture aeroplanes of greater than 100 horsepower, she is building the largest planes in the world," said Captain Rickenbacker, who recently returned from a stay in that country.

"I learned that the best aviation scientists in Germany are concentrating on construction of a plane of 6000 horsepower. Treaty requirements are evaded by constructing parts of the motor in Russia."

"Germany is supplying plane materials in great quantities and expert instruction in aviation for Japanese pilots," he added. "A man flying machine is built so that it can be converted into a battle plane, and the Germans are teaching this to the Japanese."

FORMER REFUGEE

LAUSANNE LEADER
LAUSANNE LEADER

LAUSANNE, Dec. 14.—Djellaladdin Arif Bey, representative of the Angora government at Rome and member of the Turkish delegation at the Near Eastern Conference, was president of the Senate in Constantinople when the allied governments, under British leadership, closed up the Turkish partition in 1919 and banished to Malta most of the nationalist leaders who had not joined Mustafa Kemal in Angora.

The British were after Djellaladdin, but he was too clever for them. He was warned in advance and lay in hiding until he was able to make his way across the Bosphorus disguised as a peasant. Djellaladdin Arif Bey is as large a man as Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme Court. His companion in flight was Halide Edib Hanum, the celebrated woman nationalist whom the English also wanted to send to Malta because of her effective agitation against the terms of the Sevres Treaty.

BLUE BIRD

TRIBUNE

The Blue Bird will be unable to attend to letters asking for aid which are received later than December 16. Letters received after that date will not receive consideration. The Blue Bird must have a week for closing up the work and making arrangements with Goodfellows. Closing date for Goodfellows is the last minute.

The little children are all excited and are rushing in their letters to the Blue Bird for the Goodfellows to fill. The pile of letters has fairly swamped the Blue Bird, and he is appealing to all Goodfellows to send in their request for families right away, in order that he may have an opportunity to fulfill them in the best manner possible.

There has been a decided lack of contributions to the general fund, which is to be used to provide toys and goodies for the children who will be so unfortunate as not to be taken care of by a Goodfellow who can give more time and attention to each individual child and family than the Blue Bird, who will have hundreds of families under his wing. Goodfellows, if you can't be Santa Claus to a child or a family, send in your check or bring your contribution.

To the TRIBUNE office and help the Blue Bird to give each child, who will be his care, the very best Christmas possible.

Will not families in these circumstances provide you with the way to Christmas happiness through service to their needy?

"Dear Blue Bird: I have tried to think of some way for Santa Claus to come to my little ones, and there seems to be no possible way unless you send them something. I have 4 little ones, and my husband is not able to work all the time, for the flu left him with bronchial trouble. He has only been able to work about a month since last September. With the little ones to feed it is impossible to save anything, but like all children they don't understand and they are wanting things for Christmas. I can't promise them anything, or I can't tell them they won't get anything. My heart aches for them. Will you try to remember them in any way that you can? The little ones are aged 10, 7, 4 and 1 respectively."

"Dear Blue Bird: I am a boy of 8 years old and have no papa and we are very poor. My grandma lives with us and I would like to have some thing for Christmas to eat with my little brother and grandma and my mother too."

"Dear Blue Bird: We are five children. We have no father and mother. We are staying with a lady. She is a poor woman. She has no husband. He died two years ago. And she works very hard. Will you please Blue Bird remember us for Christmas. The ages of the children are 12, 10, 9, 4 and a year and a half. Give us anything you got to spare."

GIFT VALUED AT

HUNDRED MILLION
HUNDRED MILLION

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—Nearly $100,000,000 was the valuation placed upon the Huntington Foundation in an address before students of the Southern Branch, University of California, by Henry M. Huntington, trustee.

The foundation, which is the gift of Henry H. Huntington, head of the Pacific Electric railway system, to the public, consists of a library and art gallery of international repute, and botanical gardens comprising 500 acres near Los Angeles, scarcely less famous, according to Mr. Robinson.

Mr. Robinson explained to the students that the foundation had been incorporated under the same act of the legislature as Stanford University and, by its terms, the entire Huntington estate, with all books and paintings owned by Mr. Huntington, would be thrown open to the public as the Henry H. Huntington Library and Art Gallery.

The foundation is under control of five trustees, named by Mr. Huntington during their lifetime, and self-perpetuating after their deaths. The deeds of conveyance were signed in 1919 and 1920, and the library building is now nearing completion.

The library contains between 250,000 and 300,000 volumes, many of which are rare, and the paintings include many world masterpieces, among which is the famous "Blue Boy."

"Cheer Up Girl"
Granted Divorce

"The Little Cheer Up Girl" is cheered up again.

MISS WILMA WINTER, known to vaudeville patrons for the past fifteen years as "the little cheer up girl," has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, Lloyd Simpson, according to word received by friends here. According to testimony offered in a Chicago divorce court, Simpson, a San Francisco bank clerk, deserted her recently, leaving a laconic message: "Leaving you for good." The divorce case was heard by Judge Thomas J. Lynch of Chicago.

Miss Winter made her debut in vaudeville in 1907 and has been a frequent visitor on the Orpheum and Pantages circuits since then. Her last engagement here was in 1917.

LANE PREDICTED DEFEAT OF COX BY ENEMIES OF WOODROW WILSON

"After Election Will Come Revolt
in G. O. P., for It Is Too Many Sided for Popularity," He Wrote

NAMES CABINET HE'D SELECT

This is the TRULFTH letter. Another will be printed tomorrow.

Washington, Sept. 25, 1920.

I found in Washington the secret of the exceeding great authority which the older states carry in Congress, they return their senators and congressmen, term after term, and give them opportunity to rise to positions of eminence in the national legislature. The usefulness of a senator is not to be measured by the soundness of his periods, but even by the soundness of his ideas. He must pass through a period of impatient waiting before his status is such that he can really have the opportunity to have his ideas considered seriously. By returning men who have been faithful, the state strengthens itself in Washington and eventually gains greatly in prestige.

These are to be most momentous times.

Just where we are going no one knows, but clearly the people here, as elsewhere, are bent upon testing the value of democracy as a co-operative organization of men and women, and are determined to make of it a fuller expression of human capacities and hopes. We must feel our way carefully at such a time, but we must act constructively. Else there will surely come a dangerous radical reaction. Sympathy must be checked by wisdom, a wise knowledge of man's limitations and tendencies, that we do not take on burdens we cannot safely carry. Yet we must dare, and dare purposefully. What can this democracy do for men and women—that is the super-question which rises like Sassa and follows one throughout the day, dominating every prospect. And the answer must be wrought out of the other thought and the proved experience of our statesmen.

September, 1920.—"Things look dark to me politically. The little Wilson (as distinguished from the great Wilson) is now having his day. Cox is making a manly fight on behalf of the President's League, but the administration is sullen, is doing nothing. Cox will be defeated, not by those who dislike him, but by those who dislike Wilson and his group. This seems mighty unjust."

"Wilson Beers Down Party to Defeat"

Bethel, (October 23, 1920)

What a hell of a condition the land is in politically. Cowardice and hypocrisy are slated to win, and makeshift and the cheapest politics are to take possession of national affairs. Better even a strong and honest defeat. Cox, I think, has made a gallant fight. He is to be beaten because Wilson is as unpopular as he once was popular. Oh! if he had been frank as to his illness, the people would have forgotten everything, his going to Paris, his refusal to deal with the mild Reservationists—everything would have been swept away in a great wave of sympathy. But he could not be frank, he who talked so high of faith in the people discredited them; and they will not be mastered by mystery. So he is so much less than a hero that he bears down his party to defeat.

And after election will come revolt in the Republican party, for it is too many-sided for a long popularity.

I am sorry to be out of it all, but the Gods so willed.

To Robert Lansing—

Bethel, Maine, November 10, (1920)

My Dear Mr. Lansing—It is good to see that letter-head, but aren't you afraid to enter into competition with Mr. Tumulty, who has now, I see, bought the old Shepard mansion and will settle in Washington. How do they do it with the high cost of living what it is? The transmutation of brass into gold is becoming a commonplace.

Tonight's paper speaks of Knox as probable secretary of state. Tell me where the opposition is to come from—who are to lead us? All possible leaders have been submerged, squelched, drowned out, in the past eight years. I wish the whole country had gone unanimously for Harding. Then we might have started on a fresh, clean footing to create two parties that represent liberal and conservative thought. As it is, I think you will see Hearst and Johnson and La Follette try to capture the radicals of both parties and make a new party of their own. Then I shall be with all the rascals I have been fighting since boyhood—the Wall Street rascals—as against the other group. But maybe the Lord cares a bit for us after all.

I mend very slowly, but I delight in your recovery and wonder at it. I do beg you will give me all the gossip of Washington that you can, for I am here in a wilderness, beautiful but not exciting. As always,

F. K. L.

To George W. Wickersham—

Bethel, Maine, (November 18, 1920)

My Dear G. W.—I am for harmony—a reconciler, like Harding. Root, as you say, would give a good smack to the meal. The country would at once say Harding knows how to eat a good table. But tell me—will he be a Taft? a McKinley? a Hayes? or a Grant? Pshaw! Why should I ask such a question? Who knows what a man will turn out to be? Events may make him greater than any, or

13 Reasons for 13-Cent Stamp Are Presented

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Postmaster General Work was received from the members of the Shepherd college state normal school, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, a petition that the post-office department again issue stamps of the thirteen-cent denomination, which was recently issued.

The petition declares that the entire history of the United States is bound up in the figure 13 and gives the following historical reasons why the thirteen-cent stamp should be issued:

1. The republic originally consisted of thirteen colonies.

2. The first official flag had thirteen stars and thirteen stripes.

3. The silver quarter is written all over with thirteen.

4. The stars and stripes were raised over Fort Sumter on the thirteenth of the month.

5. Gen. Pershing arrived in France on June 13, 1917.

6. The thirteenth amendment to the constitution freed the slave.

7. It would not cost any more to make a thirteen-cent stamp than any other one.

8. The petition to Postmaster General Work was signed several designs for the stamp.

The police are now investigating the case.

Inspector Views

Knights Templar

RICHMOND, Dec. 14.—Inspector J. C. McLaughlin of Berkeley inspected the Knights Templar, last night in Moscow Temple. A large audience attended the program during which a work of the order was put on display.

Yves, Richard, Robert, and William, all of the order, were present. The program was a success and the order was well represented.

Names Cabinet He Would Select

Lincoln made Seward and Chase and Stanton and Blair his ministers. He did not fear them. He wished to walk with the greatest, not with trucklers and flatterers, court satellites and panderers. His great soul was not warm enough to fuse them—they were rebellious ore—but his simplicities were not to be mastered by their elaborate cogencies.

McKinley was simple in his nature, at bottom a dear boy of kind heart, who put his hand into the big fist of Mark Hanna and was led to glory.

Is Harding great and masterful in his simplicity, or trustful and yielding? And if the latter, where is the Hanna? Well, I don't want to die in these next few months, anyway. Till some questions are answered. This would be a part of my cabinet if I were Harding: Root, state; Hoover, treasury; Warren of Michigan, attorney-general; Wood, war; Willard (of Baltimore & Ohio), postmaster-general; Hays, labor; Lowden, interior; Weeks, navy.

I would put you and Taft on the supreme bench and scour the country for strong men for the commissions which have mostly third-rate men on them.

You speak of great Americans and have named all four from political life. I concur in your selection. Now what writers would you say were most distinctly American in thought and most influential upon our thought, men who a hundred years hence will be regarded not great as literary men but as American social, spiritual and economic philosophers? It occurs to me that this singular trio might be selected: Emerson, Henry George and William James. What say you?

On the people of my triumphant endeavor in the Quist case, I have been called in to solve a crime which is even more mysterious and interesting than the recent Quist case. The late Alexander Quist, a well-known San Francisco resident, was found dead in his room at the Hotel Quist, San Francisco, on the morning of December 10, 1922.

The first thing I noticed when I entered the room was a strong odor of gas. I immediately opened the window and called for the police. The police arrived and found the body of Alexander Quist lying on the floor. The cause of death was determined to be gas poisoning.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Nearly half the exports of corn from the United States in 1921—58,552,395 bushels—went to Canada, according to the U. S. department of agriculture.

Exports of corn during each of the first three months of 1922 were larger than during any month of 1921.

The second largest foreign market for American corn was the Netherlands, where 17,542,594 bushels were imported. The next largest markets in point of receipts were the United Kingdom, Germany and Mexico.

Corn exports for the first eight months of this year exceeded the exports for the entire year of 1921 by 2,457,545 bushels, according to the department. Total corn exports for 1921 were 123,274,503 bushels. NIPPON BEETLE
THREATENS LOSS TO ORANGE CROP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—A real Japanese invasion threatens the country in the form of the Japanese beetle. Dr. C. L. Matlack, chairman of the Federal Horticultural board, announced yesterday in his annual report. He expressed the belief that this is one of the most dangerous insect introductions made in the country in many years, threatening the large orange crop.

Vigorous combat was given during the year to insect pests that were doing much damage to American crops. The fighting of the pine sawfly was in better status now than ever before, substantial reductions in the infested areas having been effected. No new outbreaks of the European corn borer were reported during the year, and this pest is limited to the north-central part of the country. The grape vine moth, a pest of the grape vine, was reported to have been introduced from Japan.

Haiti Plans First

Up-to-Date Hotel

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Dec. 14.—Haiti is to have her first modern hotel ready for business 1. May of next year. Until then she will be far behind her sister of the West Indies, for there is not a hotel in the island that approaches the standards of an American hotel of 20,000, to say nothing of the splendid hotels of Cuba, Mexico and the United States.

Business men of the foreign colonies here are combining with local leaders to develop a new enterprise. Ground has been broken on the estate of Edward P. Pavier, on the Dizon Road, which is the name of the estate. The site overlooks the bay and can be reached from the heart of the city by automobile in ten minutes. With 120 acres running from the shore of the bay to the foothills, there are facilities for golf, hunting, swimming, riding, tennis and trap shooting and magnificent views of the mountains and the bay.

The figures on the report were compiled from fifty industrial cities throughout the country.

WOMAN REVEALS HOW EX-KAISER ASKED HER HAND

Arduous of Former War Lord and Hatred of Court Lord By Frau Von Rochow.

(Frau Gabriele von Rochow, to whom Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former German Emperor, was secretly engaged for a month before he married Princess Hermine of Reuss in exclusive interview with International News Service in Berlin today threw light upon the war lord's love making. The secret engagement was broken off by the former Kaiser due to pressure and cajolery from a member of his entourage at Doorn. Here, for the first time, is presented an intimate picture of the former war lord seeking a second wife after the death of Augusta Victoria.)

By S. D. WEXER, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, Dec. 14.—"I lost my husband about the same time the Kaiser died (April 9, 1921)," said Frau Gabriele von Rochow, the "woman who paid" in the Kaiser's love triangle, in telling her story of her love match with Wilhelm Hohenzollern.

"Shortly afterward the Kaiser wrote me a letter begging me to visit him at Doorn. He said he was terribly lonely and wished to talk with me as an old friend who understood him. All my life I had been the subject of envy and jealousy because of the favors Wilhelm had shown."

"I went to Doorn with some misgivings, but felt that the Kaiser, whose letter bespoke gloomy loneliness bordering upon utter despair, needed a friend to cheer him up. He called to me because I had been his friend for nearly four years. I immediately knew him and his family and his life. I went to Doorn. That was in the summer of last year."

"At Doorn I found a lonely, tired, sad and despondent. But as the days passed he brightened up more and more. He took long walks in the park of his home. He talked to me for hours. I felt all his thoughts and feelings. I was always done before I could have a chance to speak. I thought of his ideas and his feelings. The court camellia, which he always carried, was a symbol of his feelings. I thought he liked to hear my voice and I felt that I had a chance to be his friend."

"On the surface they crawled in the dust to me, as they did to him. I soon knew they had declared 'war' to the Kaiser. But I cared not. I did not think they had the power to do what they after."

"Up to that time my relationship with the Kaiser had been solely one of deep friendship and mutual understanding. I only admired him as a man of daring and brilliant ideas. I was always done before I could have a chance to speak. I thought of his ideas and his feelings. The court camellia, which he always carried, was a symbol of his feelings. I thought he liked to hear my voice and I felt that I had a chance to be his friend."

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 14.—(By Associated Press.)—The latest wrinkle originated by Kansas City criminals is not only to rob the victim of all valuable property, but to cause him to disrobe with the exception of his underwear and go home in bitter weather in that condition—or in a barrel.

Since none of the bandits have been caught to date, the curiosity of police and citizens as to what the police are doing to catch them is included in the bandits' "bill of sale" is unsatisfied.

It has become unsafe for a Kansas City citizen to venture forth at a late hour unless he is on the lookout for a bandit. The police are doing nothing for what he has on his person and very little for his life. Police records show that unless the bandits are satisfied with the returns for their trouble they occasionally shoot the victim in a non-vulnerable part of the body or on the head with a lead rope or a black jack, presumably as a warning to submit.

but straightaway said: "Margaret (a pet name) I have come to ask you to be my wife." I tried to interrupt him. As I nervously raised my hands, as if to bid him cease, he felt a sickening sensation. In that fraction of a second it seemed as if all the heartaches, tortures and torment of subsequent months flashed before me like a sinister premonition. He continued: "I cannot live without you. You are the only being on earth who can make life bearable for me. You must marry me."

Frau Gabriele, touched to the heart, finally consented to become the Kaiser's bride and then began to plan the wedding. The engagement was broken. They enlisted members of the Hohenzollern family and ultimately were successful.

RAIL DIVORCE DECREE SENT TO ST. LOUIS COURT

Western Pacific Intervenes in Merger Hearing At Last Moment.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—A special representative of the Department of Justice is en route to St. Louis with the official text of a mandate to carry out the decree of the Supreme Court in the Southern Pacific-Central Pacific separation case. Hearings on the mandate will begin January 25 in the circuit court at St. Louis.

Officials of the Department of Justice in commenting today on the dissolution decree said there were several phases of the mandate which undoubtedly would assume importance during the hearing. If it should be found impossible to carry out any phase of the separation it was said, the interested parties might seek the return of the mandate to the department of justice with a view to modification.

By JAMES T. KOLBERT.

Howell K. Faye, general manager of the Western Pacific, accompanied by counsel, put in a belated appearance at today's hearing and asked the court to send the case to the already complicated case.

The Western Pacific, which has had an intervening petition in the case, sought assurance that the commission, whether it permitted continued control or whether it upheld the Supreme Court decision, will protect its interest.

Summing up his case, Faye stated the Central Pacific is regarded as a competitor of the Western Pacific and urged that has been given the same rate privileges and arrangements as the Southern Pacific as those afforded the Central Pacific.

WASH KIDNEYS IF THEY HURT

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back pains you or Bladder bothers.

Flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much meat and rich food may form uric acid, which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel from the blood. They become sluggish and weak; then you suffer from a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the purest of grades and mineral juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the uric acid in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink.—Advertisement.

"My Decision is for It"

IN these days of the referendum and recall, the judge on the bench is human like the rest of us. He likes his game of golf or handball or his hike. And his car is a boon companion.

With true judicial mind he has studied his car's needs. He knows that the secret of keeping his car young lies in good oil and proper care. His decision on oil is in favor of VENTURA—Paraffin-Base.

It's an oil after his own heart—strong or lubrication—long on mileage—heat resisting—dependable and uniform to the last drop.

Let the Red "V" sign guide you to garages and service stations that serve VENTURA.

Narcotics Found in Shoe Sole By Jailer

SAN JOSE, Dec. 14.—Another attempt to smuggle narcotics into the Santa Clara county jail was frustrated here yesterday by the vigilance of Jailer A. De Temple, who discovered the dope smuggled under the sole of a shoe. The smuggler, Joseph Couch, Couch appeared at the jail yesterday bearing a pair of shoes which had been repaired for a prisoner, Joe Miller. De Temple unwrapped the package containing the shoes and noticed a small piece of one shoe was nailed on rather crudely. Ripping off the sole, De Temple found cleverly concealed in the shoe five packages of contraband. A felony charge of attempting to smuggle drugs into a public jail was placed against Couch and he was locked up with the man he had attempted to get the narcotics to.

Landlord Sues For Return of Lease

SAN JOSE, Dec. 14.—Alleging that John V. Slavich has violated the terms of his lease by selling a property belonging to John H.
Graves intoxicating liquors, Graves yesterday brought suit in the superior court against Slavich, demanding the surrender of the lease held by the defendant and the return of the property to Graves. In the complaint filed with the county clerk by Graves it is set forth that one of the terms of the lease given Slavich was that the premises, located at 23-35 W. San Fernando street, were not to be used for any purpose in violation of any law or laws of the United States of America. The selling of liquor, the complaint states, is such a violation. Graves is represented in the action by Attorneys Owen D.
Richardson and George Walford.

Chemical Plant May Locate in San Jose

SAN JOSE, Dec. 14.—A new chemical manufacturing plant, which will cost many thousands of dollars and will give employment to a large number of men,
may be built in this city shortly,
by the Henry P. Adams Company of San Francisco. Henry P. Adams, president of the company, spent yesterday in San Jose looking over several factory sites and expressed himself as "favorably impressed" with the possibilities offered by a chemical factory in San Jose.
Adams' concern is now operating several factories in the Pacific Coast, including one in Seattle.
San Jose, in the opinion of several prominent local people, will probably be picked as the location of the new factory.

volved. If the Turk has not mended his ways he will cross any petty border lines the Lausanne conference may suggest. If he is sincere in his negotiations that he would share the world his new government is one of civilization and purpose, he will make it an important part of that government's business to bring relief and prosperity to every section within its borders.

Apparently, from the statements of Mr. Richard Washburn Child at Lausanne, the United States has hopes of the Turk's sincerity. "It is unthinkable," he says, "that the aspirations of Turkey for independence and progress should not rely in part upon a generous policy of contribution to the safety and relief from suffering of mankind. Safety and relief for the suffering of mankind are one of the principal concerns of government. Because it was on her territory that the misfortune of war fell, Turkey may have an interest in these humanitarian institutions greater than that of any of us."

When nations or men consider the Turk in the light of his past performance, many things are "unthinkable" just as many are unspeakable.

HOOVER SUGGESTS SAVING.

Direct savings of upwards of $1,000,000 per annum could be made in the administration of the Department of Commerce if duties be longed properly to the department were not distributed among seven others. This is a declaration of Secretary Hoover in his annual report for the past year.

"The Department of Commerce was created," Secretary Hoover says, "to foster, promote and develop the domestic and foreign commerce, mining, manufacturing, shipping and fishing industries, and the transportation facilities. Excluding all of the semi-judicial functions of the Government respecting these matters and excluding the Shipping Board, there are still a large number of functions of the import designated in the organic act which are administered outside of the department." Mr. Hoover does not enumerate these functions except to say they lie in seven different departments and independent agencies of such widely divergent major purposes as the War and Navy. Certainly the Treasury Department and the Department of the Interior are others which do work which might be combined with similar activities in the Department of Commerce.

Secretary Hoover's suggestion follows:

"In the interests of economy, efficiency of administration, and better service to the public, all functions of the Government of the character enumerated in the organic act should be at once concentrated in three different groups (a) industry, (b) trade, and (c) navigation, and each should be under an assistant secretary. Whether each of these groups is brought under this department is secondary to the necessity for the grouping itself in order to obtain concentration of purpose and elimination of overlap. Direct savings of upwards of $1,000,000 per annum in administration could be made and many times this amount given to the public in increased values and service."

The man who would shift established duties of Government departments has a heroic task cut out and yet the instances of overlapping functions are becoming increasingly apparent. Mr. Hoover has made the suggestion and, very wisely, has refrained from suggesting his department be made the gainer in the proposed new grouping.

President Harding has long sensed the need for departmental reorganization and to that end appointed a commission to prepare a plan. An outstanding recommendation of that commission is the combination of the War and Navy Departments. The Hoover plan would be to group the similar activities of all departments into major classifications and would effect, in one way or another, practically all of

CHRISTMAS AT ASTORIA.

Many an American town and city has gone to decay because of lack of pride and initiative. The gradual process which works on the character and the habits of the citizens is sometimes effective. There are few records, however, of fire, flood or other sudden and destructive agency causing the permanent obliteration of a community.

Astoria looked up from the black acres which once were a city and announced to the world: "The city is gone but we still have the harbor." As soon as the ruins were cool the work of rebuilding started. Temporary homes have been erected, the merchants who lost their stocks are back in business, and a coalition government dedicated to the new city is functioning with more of harmony than any administration in the city's history. Little differences are forgotten in the face of catastrophe, the innate neighborliness in men is brought out.

There is need for outside help in the stricken city. Those in charge estimate $75,000 as the amount required for immediate wants and have asked Portland, San Francisco and Seattle each to contribute $25,000. It is presumed San Francisco will call upon the cities of the Bay district.

A thought which will come to many persons at this time of the year is that of the Christmas in the city of ashes, and there will be a happy response to the news that Portland businessmen, headed by W. P. Strandberg of a light and power company, have arranged for a community tree and gifts for every child.

There are few chimneys in Astoria today and yet Santa Claus will find the way to the hearts and the stockings of the city's children. In another year the chimneys will be back and the fire will be a memory. In that memory the Christmas celebration will stand out as a golden hour in a time of stress.

The radio has become a bone of international contention. Its development in China by various nations has resulted in a situation where China, for its own protection, has had to appeal for the rights to her own ether. All over the country the Japanese and other countries have done as they wish in the radio field. At the Washington Conference the question was brought up and a resolution was adopted, at the suggestion of Elihu Root, declaring that radio companies in China were there by the sufferance of China and that China still has the right to demand their removal.

Studies made by the United States Coal Commission point to the fact the Mississippi coal mining industry is over-developed. There are too many soft coal mines and too many miners, the report says. This state of affairs was hinted at by Herbert Hoover some months ago and has been generally recognized since. Estimates as to the extent of the inflation vary from 20 to 60 per cent and the problem of the coal commission is how to regulate the industry.

SAN JOAQUIN CITRUS BELT.

Lindsay and Tulare counties are celebrating with a week's exposition designed to show the citrus wealth of the San Joaquin valley. As loyal San Joaquiners it behooves us to sit up and pay attention to and publish to the world the fact that there are some 43,000 acres of oranges and lemons represented in this display. Though down toward the southern end of the valley Tulare is our neighbor, both by reason of the fact that from time to time Stocktonians have owned land there and because whatever interests any part of the valley is of interest to all of us and its benefits are mutual.

San Joaquin's citrus region has not perhaps received as much advertising as Butte county's, which is rivals, and certainly not as much as that of Southern California which it distances in the matter of marketing its fruit from four to six weeks earlier. For the honor of California it should be the pleasure of all of us to include San Joaquin's citrus crop when we tell about the varied products of this rich valley and that includes also a considerable section of orange growing in Fresno county.

It is about twenty-five years since the experiment in orange growing was tried in the foothills near Porterville. It was so successful that the past season 6000 car loads of oranges were marketed, with only about half of the planted acreage in bearing. The fruit is sent out as early as October and finds a ready, therefore a profitable market. The people down here are to be congratulated on the growing, thriving industry.—Stockton Record.

The LANTERN
Love me for the fancies
That came at my call—
My deeds were merely nonsense
I meant not at all.
Love me for my dreaming,
And so love me well—
My deeds were but the falsehoods
That life likes to tell.

J. B. C. sends us a number of manuscripts to criticize, and wants to know if we think she has "the equipment for a writer." Probably she has; if she hasn't, she can get it at the nearest stationery store. The only equipment necessary is a ream of paper and a large, soft lead pencil.

A certain amount of nerve is a good thing, but if you haven't that at the start you are certain to acquire it before you have used up the ream of paper. It is impossible at the present time for any one living to write 100,000 words about anything or nothing without being acclaimed a genius by some critic or other. The critics are, most of them, afraid to come out and say that anything written is merely and entirely nonsense. The census of 1920 will show 40,000,000 professional writers of one sort or another in America, and 70,000,000 other people sweating and dying to support them in idleness. The social revolution, when it comes, will take the form of a revolt against the parasitic writing classes.

Writers have been able to get the notion generally accepted that if they were to cease to function it would make a great deal of difference in the world. But the strange thing about them is that if you ask any one of them, point-blank: "Old man, if you quit writing entirely, would it be a real loss to the human race?" he will invariably answer: "No, I. Of course not. You don't think I'm conceited enough to think that my writing matters greatly, do you? No! No! It wasn't of myself that I was speaking!"

We have asked hundreds of writers that question in the last ten years and they always give us practically the same answer. Now and then one will say to me: "But there's John Q. Blank. If John Q. Blank were to stop writing entirely you must admit it would make a difference." Then we go and ask John Q. Blank himself, and John Q. Blank says: "No, no, no. I don't think I'm conceited enough to think that my writing matters greatly, do you? No! No! It wasn't of myself that I was speaking!"

People write because they like to write. It is the best possible reason. If they get praise and money for it, they like that, too. But most of them really do value the praise more than the money. They do it to please themselves and they have invented the idea that writing is important to save themselves from the reproach of indolence and self-indulgence.

Vista.
There is a little patch of blue
At the end of my city street,
And every time I look at it
The world grows strangely sweet.
For it has a hundred colors
That mirror the shining sky—
This little patch of sapphire blue
That lingers as I go by.

When I see it dancing before me
Amidst the city's gray,
I hear the color of the whippoorwill
And I see the face of May.

And I know there are golden daffodils
And lilacs white and fair
That glance at me from the waters
And smile to meet me there.

There is a little patch of blue
At the end of my city street,
And every time I look at it
The world grows strangely sweet.

I broke the spell that held me long.

I said the poem's life was mine
And now I find my time is gone.

For poetry, though heavenly born,

I give you laughter . . . and You ask
As if my mirth were but a mask
For thoughts that weep.

Suppose I bade you put aside
This "mask" and look within?
What think you is the thing I hide?
A grief? A sin?

You almost tempt me to pretend
Some interesting woe!
It is not so!

I'm merely laughter through and Through.
By preference, by trade,
By training and by habit, too—
That's how I'm made.

"NEW" REMBRANDT FOUND.
The Hague—According to Dutch newspapers, a remarkable Rembrandt painting, the existence of which was previously unsuspected, has recently been discovered in Prague by J. R. Well, an art critic.

The painting, 35 centimeters in height by 97 in width, is on wood and represents the marriage of Alexander the Great and Roxana. It is said to be a splendid example of the great painter's wonderful mastery of light and shade.

Rembrandt's signature, a Persian inscription indicating the subject of the work, and the date, 1628, came to light after numerous coats of heavy varnish had been removed from the picture.—La Petit Parisien.

From a communication to the New York Herald: "My father, Odeon Fountain, about 1860-67, erected two French flats—the first in New York—in East Thirty-first street. I have heard him say a young Frenchman lived there in one of the apartments who afterward became President of France or was otherwise eminent. This I have taken as a reference to M. Clemenceau."

Goldfield Tribune: "If it were possible for an airplane to fly from the earth to the moon at the rate of two hundred miles an hour, seven weeks would be required for the trip, a statistician with nothing much to think about informs us. But even so there would be the return trip to consider—and most of us have only a few weeks' vacation when we have any at all."

New York World: "The supreme question at Lausanne is oil, but that is a question chiefly between American, British and other European oil companies. The question between the Turks and the Allies over such matters as boundaries, capitulations and the like is an attempt to decide whether or not the Turks were conquered in the war."

Seattle Times: "A letter mailed November 4, 1896, and addressed to a California business firm, has been returned to the sender by the postoffice department. Doubtless the Republican administration can establish an alibi by pointing out that it was mailed during a Democratic administration."

Brooklyn Eagle: "Students in the Presbyterian College at Montreal are reported to be striking against hash for dinner. And yet as an acid test of one's fidelity to predestinationism, valorous facing of the hash plate may be regarded as unapproached and unapproachable."

New York Times: "In the district attorney's office there is no failure to realize how difficult it will be to conduct an effective campaign against the Ku Klux Klan. Nowhere except within its own circle is there any doubt that it is a vicious organization—that its methods of attaining its ends are utterly wrong and therefore utterly reprehensible. Its professed purposes, however, are not only innocuous, but commendable, and for its summary suppression—for the prosecution of its members, merely as members—there is no law and in all probability should be none."

Medford Mail Tribune: "The League of Nations may be weak in the knees, but the dream retains its goal. It has requested the United States to care for 1,100,000 Greeks, chased out of Asia Minor by the Turks, and who have no place to go but their own country."

Goldfield Tribune: "Gradually, but yet surely, like a Lizzie reaching the end of a transcontinental journey, Henry is coming to the point where he will devote all his time to politics, leaving Edsel to make the cars. That's when the price will cease to get lower."

GET UP!

In the good old days of the long ago
In the home unbroken we used to know,
When never a vacant chair we kept,
And never one tear of grief we'd wept,
Then we were roused from our cosy beds
By father, who shouted: "You sleepy heads!
Get up! Get up!" as he passed each door,
"Get up at once, for I'll call no more!"

We'd answer him in a drowsy way,
"Yes, in a minute," we'd wake to say,
But just as soon as he'd passed along,
Singing a snatch of his morning song,
We'd all fall back where the bed was warm
In the place which fitted each youthful form,
And go to sleep till there came a shout:
"Get up or I'll come and pull you out!"

He'd stand at the foot of the stairs and call:
"Get up! You sleepy heads, one and all!
Your mother's been down for an hour or two,
The day is here and there's work to do,
There'll be trouble up there if you don't jump out
And promptly begin to stir about!"

Then sometimes he'd come with a rush and stream
The covers away and banish sleep.

Who knows when the last long sleep comes on
And the mornings of earthly life have gone,
And who were children so long ago
Are wrapped in slumber the angels know,
Perhaps we shall open our drowsy eyes
In a world of wonder and glad surprise
And find at the foot of the golden stair
The Father, waiting and calling
There.

The traveling salesman in the check suit turned to his fellow passenger who wore a flaming fancy vest and remarked:

"Pardon my curiosity, but I'd like to know what that label was that you gummed on your trunk just now."

"That's all right," said the other. "Here's a similar one. I had a lot printed before I left home. Read it."

The questioner took the slip of paper and read aloud:

"While a trunk was being handled carelessly at a railway station recently it exploded with great violence, seriously injuring a baggage handler and demolishing one end of the station."

"The man with the fancy vest put his hand in his pocket. 'Have a look at this,' he said, and showed them useful."

'Twas the Night Before Christmas

This year and month mark the centenary of Clement Clarke Moore's "A Visit from St. Nicholas," better known as "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," for the poem, which at the Yuletide season has thrilled the hearts of so many generations of youth, was written on the evening of December 23, 1822. Far from what were considered the regions of bustle and turmoil in the pleasant old New York of one hundred years ago there was, beyond Greenwich Village, a suburb known as Chelsea. There, at a spot which is now approximately Nin' avenue and Twenty-second street, there was a hill, and perched on top of the hill there was an old time mansion from which the section took its name. It had been built by Clement Clarke Moore's grandfather, an English army officer, who came overseas to help the Colonist in the French and Indian wars, and who stayed to make his home in the New World.

This Englishman left his big, white house Chelsea to his daughter Charity, who married a young minister. The young minister became the second Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of New York and third president of Columbia college. In the big white house Clement Clarke Moore was born, July 15, 1779. All around the house on the hill were scattered the farms of the descendants of the Dutch settlers, and as a boy young Moore heard from one of the neighbors, a Dutch farmer's son, working in the garden, the legend of St. Nicholas, whose name the Dutch children had shortened to Santa Claus. An only child, Clement watched by himself for the coming of Santa Claus every Christmas Eve.

Graduated from Columbia in 1798, Clement Clarke Moore studied for the ministry, but never took orders, devoting himself to Oriental and classical literature. When he was 39 he published the first Hebrew and Greek lexicon that had ever been brought out in America. In order to print the book it was necessary to send to Philadelphia to find the Hebrew characters. Appointed professor of Biblical learning at the General Theological Seminary in 1821 he served the institution for nearly thirty years and was the honor of the ground on which the seminary still stands. He died in Newport, R. I., in 1863.

The famous poem, destined long to out-live the memory of his distinguished classical achievements, was written for the entertainment of his own boys and girls, to whom he had passed on the story of Santa Claus and his reindeer that he had heard in his own boyhood. It was designed merely for the diversion of an evening; "I had no thought of having it put into type. But visiting at the house there was a Miss Butler, on whom the lines made a great impression. She either memorized the poem or wrote it down, and a year later when in her Troy home, sent it to the Troy Sentinel, in which it was printed on December 23, 1823, just a year to a day after it was written. Copied all over the country it was years before the author could be induced to father it.—New York Herald.

JUDGE OPENS PATH TO WAR ON MEDIUMS

Tyrell Fines Two Women; Declares Clairvoyants Cannot Hide Behind Religion in Seances For Money

Fining two trance mediums and clairvoyants $50 each for conducting seances, Police Judge Edward J. Tyrell today opened the way for the police war on the 35 or 40 "spook artists" now operating in Oakland, by handing down a decision to the effect that mediums cannot hide behind religion in the practice of spirit production for pay.

The conviction of Mrs. E. Ingerson of 1273 Eighth street and of Mrs. Lena Zimmerman of 2033 Franklin street, and the fining of these women by Judge Tyrell, is based upon a decision of the Court of Criminal Appeals in the State of Oklahoma, which high tribunal ruled that "while the police may not interfere with religious beliefs, they can interfere with practices which are injurious to the public welfare."

Attorneys for Mrs. Zimmerman filed notice of appeal, indicating

CONTEST OF TRIBUNE TO END FRIDAY

Entrants in the Americanism Definition Struggle Must Have Copy in Mail Before Midnight Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow at midnight is the closing time for the contest in which THE TRIBUNE is offering three prizes of $50, $30 and $20 respectively for the best definitions of "Americanism" submitted by school children of the Eastbay district. That means that only those definitions will be considered which are either in THE TRIBUNE office by midnight tomorrow, or bear a postmark prior to that time.

The contest is conducted by THE TRIBUNE in conjunction with Oakland Chapter No. 7, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, at whose suggestion it was undertaken; Oakland Post No. 5, American Legion, and the Oakland School Department, which recently co-operated in presenting the program of "American Education Week" to the Eastbay public.

Definitions are limited to fifty words in length. Within that space each definition should present what the boy or girl writing it believes to be the principal things that distinguish real Americans from those who are not real Americans.

At the close of the contest the definitions will be read by the following committee of judges, who will select the three prize winners: Commander Earl E. Brown of Oakland Chapter No. 7, Disabled American Veterans of the World War; Post Adjutant Stanley S. Wood of Oakland Post No. 5, American Legion, chairman of the post's Americanization committee; Superintendent Fred M. Hunter of the Oakland School Department; and the Americanization Editor of THE TRIBUNE.

All definitions should be addressed to "The Americanization Editor, The Oakland TRIBUNE."

Duck Flies From Europe to Dive In Lake Merritt

Mareca Penelope Arrives From Poland With Two Gentlemen Friends.

So far has the fame of Oakland's hospitality spread that Mareca Penelope arrived this morning, all the way from Europe, and dived straight into Lake Merritt, announcing her arrival with a glad shout. Two relatives or gentlemen friends arrived with her. News of the hospital of Oakland's duck preserves, it appears, has penetrated as far as the wild marshes of Russia and Poland, and Mareca Penelope may be only the first of a new invasion of European ducks, according to bird experts.

Mareca Penelope is the highbrow name for the European widgeon. Her species has never been seen in these waters before. While not casting any direct aspersions upon Penelope, the bird-students observe that her tribe is different from most ducks because of their coloring, and because of the "smaller area of the head," interior and exterior.

Special observers are now striving to see how many more of the tribe will come.

"It pays to advertise," say the park board authorities.

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE tell them so.

PAWNSHOP ORDINANCE ADVANCED

An ordinance giving the city stricter supervision over army goods stores, pawnshops and such establishments was passed to print by the city council today on motion by Commissioner Frank Colbourne. The ordinance is a supplement to one recently passed concerning such places.

The new ordinance demands that pawnshops, exchange shops, reclaimed-goods shops and army-goods shops shall keep the same hours, close at the same time and keep the same type of books.

The council called for bids for the new electric sign on top of the auditorium, and revoked the soft drink license of J. Sano, at 539 Ninth street, for alleged violations of the Volstead Act.

The improvement of East Twenty-seventh street, from Perata avenue northeasterly, was ordered. Protests were set over for two weeks concerning the proposed improvement of Holly street and the sewerage of Alcatraz avenue.

CHRISTMAS SALE HELD BY CLAWSON HIGH STUDENTS

Toy windmills and autos, candy, jam, dolls and other things that help distinguish Christmas from the rest of the year, were disposed of at the annual Christmas sale held by students of the Clawson Junior High school yesterday in the school auditorium. The toys, candies, etc., were all made by the pupils. The pupils whose work was represented in the sale are in the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

The metal toys were made by the boys in the metal shop under the direction of George D. Young. Wooden toys were made in the manual training workshop under the direction of George Streiff.

The dolls were made and dressed by the girl pupils. The work done in the sewing department was performed under the direction of Miss Mildred Jessup. Home-made candy, jams, jellies, etc., were made under the direction of Miss Marion Higgins of the cooking department.

About $150 was realized by the sale. This money will go to the school library.

The following committee had charge of the sale: George D. Young, chairman; Miss Marion Higgins, Miss Ruth Garratt and George Streiff.

parted spirit, and seven others were taken into custody for giving seances to Officer Miller.

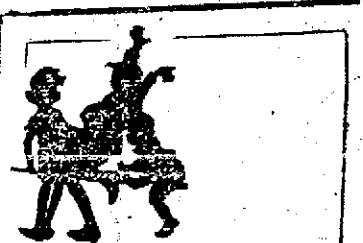

Judge Tyrell's decision is considered to be a far reaching one by the police authorities, who up to this time have been doubtful as to their power to stop fortune telling in the guise of religion.

The decision of the Oklahoma court of appeals, however, clears up the whole matter, according to Prosecuting Attorney Fred Donahue, who looked up the Court of Criminal Appeals.

"The regulation and suppression of the art, practice or profession of communicating with departed spirits by mediums while in a state of trance and who impart such communications for hire, whether it be done pursuant to a system of philosophy, religion or metaphysical science, is within the police power."

"Assuming that the practice of communication with spirits is a part of an established religion, such practice is inimical to the good order of the community or conflicting with the penal laws, is not within the purview of the federal and state constitutions relating to the establishment of religion or its operation."

occupying the courts are a result of wholesale arrests made recently by the police in an effort to rid Oakland of the scores of "divine seers," clairvoyants and fortune tellers. At this time one medium was caught with a white robe on in the act of impersonating a saint.

ST. MARY'S AND POMONA FOOTBALL SQUADS DEPART FOR GAMES IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

Saint Mary's Team Departs For Honolulu

Coach Madigan Takes Squad of Seventeen For Two Games in Islands.

Coach "Slip" Madigan and his St. Mary's college football team sailed yesterday at noon for Honolulu, where the local collegians have two football contests scheduled over the Christmas vacation period. Seventeen players were taken on the trip by Madigan, including practically the entire squad who were rated as regulars toward the end of the season.

The first of these post season games will be played at Honolulu December 24 against a picked team from the Islands while the second contest will take place December 31 against another picked team.

The St. Mary's squad includes three Hawaiian stars, Clarence Lane, Noble Kauhane, and Nick Hoopii, who will be the outstanding stars in the eyes of their friends, who will see them in action for the first time on a collegiate football team.

The personnel of the St. Mary's squad which left yesterday was as follows: Coach, E. P. Madigan; ends, Lane, Murdock, Kauhane, Lester; tackles, Collins, Stanley, Hangerford; center, Clark; guards, Snow, Nelson, Cortright; center, McNeill; quarterback, Black; halfbacks, Prelli, Hoopii, Grant; fullback, Strader.

The Saints are scheduled to arrive in Honolulu December 19, having five days in which to regain their land legs after their trip and to get acclimated.

After their two games the Saints will have but little time for sight-seeing, doing most of their touring during the holiday season.

Their program calls for them to leave on the return trip January 2, arriving in Oakland January 9. Due to the fact that the greater part of the time the team is away from the city, the men will lose but little time away from classes, but five days of study being lost according to the collegiate authorities. It is understood that there was some objection raised at the outset against the men being away from college, too long, but these objections were overcome when the facts were ascertained.

It is the first time that a St. Mary's team has ever made such a long trip and comes at the conclusion of one of the hardest football schedules ever undertaken by the local collegians, during which time were made to Arizona and Nevada.

On the same boat with the St. Mary's players yesterday, Coach Nixon and his Pomona college football squad were on their way to Honolulu where they are also to perform over the holiday season. It fell to the lot of the Pomona college team to meet the University of Hawaii on Christmas day, playing their second game on New Year's against an all-star team.

St. Mary's Team En Route for Honolulu

Graham Sees Big Leagues In Freeze-out

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—A freeze-out of the minor leagues by the majors because of the attitude of the minors in opposing the draft, was declared to be the policy of major league owners by Charles Graham, one of the owners of the San Francisco Seals, in a statement given out today.

Although the freeze-out game is to be feared, Graham said, he feels that if Coast League owners stick together closely enough they can come out victorious in the battle.

The draft is gone forever, Graham believes, having killed itself by abuse.

Bud Ridley Leaves To Fight in South

Bud Ridley, who boxed a draw with Jimmy Dundee at the Auditorium last night, left this afternoon for Los Angeles, where he has signed for two fights. He will return later for another match with Dundee. Matchmaker Simpson has been asked to fight yet for next week's entertainment.

O. A. C. BASKETBALLERS WILL SPEND A BUSY TEN DAYS ON TOUR

Northern Collegians Have Game With Livermore, Two in Oakland; Leave on Trip December 23

By DOUG. MONTELL.

Coach Bob Hager and his Oregon Aggie basketball players will put in a busy time on their tour through California during the Christmas holidays, particularly in the bay region, according to the schedule of games arranged for the northern collegians. The Aggies have a veteran team which finished second in the Pacific Coast Conference last season, taking second only to Idaho, which institution played fewer games due to their late entry into the Conference.

The Aggies figure to be one of the strongest teams in the northwest this year and their barnstorming tour of this state will mark the only appearance of a northwest collegiate quintet for the coming season.

Word received yesterday from Coach Hager indicates that the schedule of the Aggies for their road trip has been practically completed, six games having been definitely scheduled with four others tentatively arranged, final action on which is expected before the O. A. C. squad leaves Corvallis on the 23rd of the month.

transferred to the northern institution where he was one of the outstanding stars last year. Hjelle was named on the mythical All Pacific Coast five by J. P. Bohler of Washington state, being regarded as one of the best centers turned out in the northwest in the history of the Coast Conference.

BUD LOGAN FLIVVERS IN BOUT WITH ROACH; MORGAN BEATS MENDO

Boys In Curtain Raiser Furnish Feature Bout; Al Sange Beats Hererra; Bobby Gray Wins From Larson.

By BOB SHAND.

Of the three Buds who appeared in the Auditorium ring last night two bloomed and one was a bloomer. Bud Ridley fought himself into a draw with Jimmy Dundee. Bud Garber slugged himself even with Joe Bell in the curtain raiser and Bud Logan played punching bag for Chick Roach. Tod Morgan took a well-earned decision from Jimmy Mendo; Pete Francis knocked Harry Scott down for a nine count in the last thirty seconds of their fight and that won for him. Al Sange showed great form when he won all the way from Joe Hererra and Bobby Gray took the dumbbell championship from Battling Larson. It was a good show with action galore in every fight and the big crowd failed to find anything to complain about.

The curtain-raiser between Joe Bell and Bud Garber was the tobacco of the evening. Nobody ever accused either party to the scrap of being able to box, but nobody will hereafter accuse them of not being willing to slug. They blocked everything with their good looks and when they couldn't punch with their hands they punched with their faces. That's how willing they were to battle. Apparently they both had the same plan of battle—to wear out the other fellow—and they both succeeded admirably. After two rounds of whole-hearted slugging they were so weak they couldn't fight their way out of a paper bag, but that didn't keep them from trying. They ought to be back on the next card. Garber showed a badly swollen hand after the bout.

Dundee Goes Fast In the Third Round.

The next best scrap was the main event. Ridley took the honors in the first round. The second was even; Dundee forged to the front in the third, and Ridley broke even in the fourth to make the affair fifty-fifty. If the fight was any edge at all it belonged to Dundee on the strength of his work in the third round, but it would have been tough to deprive either of them of a draw. Ridley is still the same little center he was when he first appeared here, and Dundee showed the result of conscientious training when he stepped four real fast rounds. The dope figured Dundee to step around his opponent and rather points that way, but in the third round "Lucky" accepted a challenge to slug and he "took" Ridley at the latter's own game. Stirling in the center of the ring, the pair let go with both hands for the first time, and it was Ridley who reached the ropes first. Bud was battling all the time, but Dundee's socks were landing flush on the chin and Ridley was simply forced to back up. The fourth canto was a riot, with both swinging for the chin.

Tommy Simpson Used Good Judgment.

Tommy Simpson knew something when he matched Bud Logan with Chick Roach instead of Jimmy Duffy. Just what Duffy would have done to Logan is something for Coroner Grant Miller to worry about. Roach hit him with everything but Cliff Durant's new shiny bat, and Logan did not seem to know what it was all about. There is no more punishing fighter in the four-round game than Logan when he starts leveling for the pantry. All Logan did was to open a cut over Roach's eye in the third and the wound bled profusely in the fourth round. Logan defeated Dave Shade just a few weeks ago, and the desperate Shade did not try fighting. After seeing Bud last night, there must have been some mistake. Maybe it was cribbage or something.

Francis Mendo started out to make a "sucker" of Tod Morgan, but the shoe was on the other walker before the second round ended. Morgan did not try to fight at all times while Mendo wanted to hold.

Pete Francis Sends Scott to the Floor.

Harry Scott and Pete Francis boxed four willing rounds with a close even until Francis pulled out up coming to the end of the last round. Scott hit the floor with a third and took all the count the law allows. That punch, from Joe Peter.

Frankie Burns has been teaching Al Sange a lot of stuff and Al showed vast improvement in his bout with Joe Hererra which he won off by himself. Hererra was never in the running and came near being knocked down on several occasions.

The Larson-Gray bout was very ordinary, although both were trying. Gray sunk one into Bat's chin in the first round and the issue the San Francisco scrapper sat down for a second. That was all the damage.

SALT LAKE SELLS PITCHER THURSTON TO ST. LOUIS BROWNS

PITCHER KUNZ GOES TO PITTSBURGH PIRATES FOR FOUR OTHER PLAYERS AND $7500 IN CASH

ZONING SYSTEM MAY CURB HITTING HOME RUNS IN BIG LEAGUES

Thurston Sold to St. Louis Browns for $15,000; Baseball Writers' Association Ask Landis to Rule on Hit Allowed Ty Cobb.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Sessions of Major League club owners in New York were brought to a conclusion today with a joint session of the American and National leagues, presided over by Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis. Both leagues closed their annual meetings yesterday.

Prominent among topics slated for discussion at the joint session were further restrictions on late season sales and trades; a proposal to again extend the world's series from seven to nine games; and alleged gambling in Major league parks, upon which President Johnson, of the American League was expected to urge action.

It was also indicated that the magnates would decide details of the distribution to charity of $120,554, the receipts of the tie world's series game last October, and act on a plan to settle inter-league matters between annual meetings by mail vote instead of special sessions.

Ty Cobb and the now famous hit which President Ban Johnson of the American League ruled he was entitled to, despite the official scorer's decision to the contrary, in a game between Detroit and New York last night, figured prominently in baseball discussion today.

Baseball Writers' Association Landis to Take Action.

Outstanding developments were the announcement that the Baseball Writers' Association of America, at its annual meeting tomorrow would act on the decision of the New York chapter not to recognize the average of 401 gained by Cobb because of the disputed hit, and a request to Commissioner Landis by a delegation of baseball writers that he bring the matter before the joint session of the American and National League today.

Commissioner Landis did not indicate what course he would take because of doubt as to whether the issue came under inter-league jurisdiction.

Members of the Baseball Writers' Association view the matter as a test of an official scorer's authority, rather than as a separate incident, and have threatened to refuse in the future to serve in that capacity if, as they claim has been done in the Cobb instance, rulings are to be changed arbitrarily.

President Johnson's explanation was that the official scorer's decision involved was not authenticated and that Cobb was credited with the hit which made a difference of between a .299 and a .401 average on the basis of unofficial reports of the game.

Scorer asserted he was not notified of any discrepancy and that no investigation was made to establish the facts.

Sitting himself an "innocent bystander," Cobb declared that he could not properly discuss either side of the controversy. As a matter of fact, he said, he could not recall the occasion when the questioned hit was made.

Zoning System Would Check Homer Hitting.

The American League at its annual meeting took action to limit what is regarded as two detrimental to the national game—home-run hitting and pop-bottle throwing.

The club owners recommended to the joint rules committee, representing both the American and National leagues, that home-run zones be established in all big league parks to curb the abnormal growth of circuit hitting, and urged that steps be taken to regulate the sale of soft drinks to fans no longer would be tempted to use the bottles as missiles.

The league, which also voted to open the season on Wednesday, April 18, decided to establish a fund of $50,000 to aid disabled players or their families by setting aside $10,000 annually for five years, beginning in 1923, from the American League's share of the world series receipts.

Adjustment of opening dates with the National League which yesterday decided to start the 1923 campaign on Tuesday, April 17, was left to the joint schedule committee, with the understanding, it was said, that the older organization would agree to April 18 as a joint date.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Yankees owner, was understood to have opposed the zoning scheme, which among others would have a marked effect on the home-run achievements of Babe Ruth, who established a record of 59 home runs last season.

The league adopted a new waiver rule, providing that if a releasing club does not withdraw its offer within 48 hours, a club filing a claim for the player or players involved must make the purchase at the waiver price of $4000 per player. Under the present rule, the releasing club has five days in which to withdraw its waiver request.

Card Eleven Working Out For Pitt Game

By TOM IRWIN.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 14.—On a turf soaked with days of rain Stanford varsity is this week skidding through heavy scrimmages preparing for "Pop" Warner's Pitt Panthers when they represent the East against the Cards in Stanford Stadium December 16. With the exception of Bud De Groot and Norman Cleveland, Kerr's squad is now working out at full strength. The Stanford skipper and the reserve fullback will enter actively into practice next week and will be present for the intense holiday when Kerr will have the men on the field night and morning.

George Baker has been taking De Groot's place in practice since the Big Game and will probably be put into the Pitt contest for a quarter as a reward for the excellent showing he has made. Kerr is more than fortunate to have a man of Baker's caliber to put in De Groot's position next year.

In Wednesday's practice the Stanford lineup was very much the same as that which started the Big Game. Jim Lawson and Norm Dole played the terminal positions next to Harry Shipkey and Chuck Johnston at the tackles. Bob Cravens and Dick Paville were on each side of the center.

In the backfield, Murray Cuddeback was doing the booting for a change from fullback position, while Wilcox watched from the side lines. If Cuddy has any such luck back in the ball in the Pitt game as he had yesterday on a wet field, he will outline the best of the Panthers have to offer. The Card fullback was sending out long, high spirals averaging nearly fifty yards during two full quarters of scrimmage. If he remains consistent, it is likely that he will supplant Wilcox instead of Cleveland if the Card halfback is removed from the game.

Rae Doughty is one of the best punters on the Stanford squad but he is so slow in getting his kicks away that it is unsafe to use him. Kerr tried Doughty for a while yesterday but Thomas, end, broke in from the opposition and smea. Kerr tried Doughty's kicks in a row and Cuddeback went back to his former position.

Bud Woodward is still at quarterback with Doughty and Paul Murray at halves. Wilcox will no doubt take Murray's place in the Pitt game but Kerr is trying to have a more experienced reserve ready for him.

The Pacific Coast Football Association, at which time officers were to be selected for the coming year.

Klawans went on to explain that at the time the organization was founded he accepted the post in order to aid in the assigning of capable officials for all football contests. The scope of the work has increased greatly, since that time and at the end of the grid season Klawans found, upon examination of his records, that he had assigned 693 football officials, spending three-quarters of his time at his duties as secretary of the association.

The organization of football officials still continuing, Hub Huebel being the president, having been re-elected, while Sam McVey of Piedmont was chosen vice-president.

He had a big season with that club and was recalled by the Pirates late in the season just closed. He will be seen in action in the Coast League next season, as he was turned over to the Sacramento Club as part payment for "Pincers" Kunz who goes to the Pirates in a deal for four players and $7,500 cash.

Berkeley High Basketball Team Finishing Hard Training

Plays Part in High Schools

There will be no practice game for the Berkeley High eleven, northern California high school champions, according to Coach Schafer. The Berkeley boys feel their title as a result of Willows and Sacramento playing a 6 to 6 tie last Saturday in the semi-final round. The winner of that game will play the Berkeley high for the championship of northern California and both institutions decided to waive their rights to the title, being unable to agree upon a playoff and there not being sufficient time to permit an extra Saturday being used to decide the issue.

Subsequently Willows issued a challenge to Berkeley high for a practice game this Saturday but Coach Schafer refused on the grounds that his men were in good shape at the present time to go into the south for the game on December 23, which is to decide the state grid title. Furthermore it was pointed out that a Willows-Berkeley high game, arranged only as a practice contest, could accomplish nothing and Berkeley would merely run the risk of injuring some of her star players.

Accordingly the offer was turned down by the Berkeley coach. Willows, it is understood, has challenged Sacramento to a return game for Saturday, December 16. Whether the team of the state capital will see its way clear to a second meeting in order to decide which of the two is superior has not yet been settled.

In the southern part of the state San Diego, winner of the southern section, and Bakersfield, winner of the central section, are scheduled to meet Saturday in the finals of the state championship. The winner will entertain Berkeley high in the south December 23.

Coach Schafer of Berkeley announced that the same line-up that defeated San Mateo would start in the battle for the state championship with but one exception. Payne, a light guard, weighing but 142 pounds, but considered to be one of the best high school line-men developed this season, will probably replace Wilkins in the Berkeley high line. Wilkins tips the beam at 175.

Berkeley high will continue stiff workouts today and tomorrow week-end, according to the present schedule. The departure of the Berkeley team for the south depends upon the outcome of the Bakersfield-San Diego game Saturday.

Bakersfield, the winner, the Berkeley team will be backed by a large delegation of spectators and members of the team that was held to a scoreless tie by Bakersfield last year are anxious to have another chance at the interior town.

Three Coast League Stars To Big Tent

Kunz Goes to the Pirates; Browns Get Thurston and Phillies Sand.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Player deals by club owners placed the Pacific Coast League in the limelight at the Minor League meeting in Louisville, Kentucky, last week, and the same happened yesterday at the joint meeting of the major leagues.

Deals which take three stars away from the Pacific Coast League were put through. The deals also mean that Pacific coast fans will see a lot more new faces next season. Claude Rohwer, University of California graduate and who captained The TRIBUNE All-Star Winter League team to the bay cities championship over the San Francisco League champions a few years ago, is coming to the Sacramento Senators via the Pittsburgh Pirates in a deal for Pitcher "Pincers" Kunz, who starred on the hill for the Senators last season. Besides Rohwer, the Senators will get Pitchers Telford and Hughes, and Infielder Harry Brown. Claude Rohwer is the second of the family to be turned over to a Coast League club by the Pirates. His brother Ray, another local bush product and University of California graduate, joins the Seattle Indians next season. Ray is an out-elder, and Claude an in-felder. Their home is at Dixon, Cal., but Claude is practicing law at Vallejo. A purse of $7500 will also be turned over as part payment for Kunz.

The Salt Lake Bees disposed of two stars to the major league Philadelphia Nationals. It is said that the deal will bring the Bees four players and cash amounting to $40,000. The players are Infielders Little and Smith, Pitcher Singleton and Catcher Smith.

Hollis Thurston is the other Bees to go up. He reports to the St. Louis Browns. It is understood that the Bees will get $15,000 cash for Thurston. Thurston, Strang and Sands were the big stars for the Bees last season. Thurston pitched fine ball throughout the season. Sand looked ripe to go to the majors a year ago, but was probably overlooked because of local bush product and University of California graduate, joins the

Battling Siki Matched Again With Georges

Senegalese Signs Papers For Bout; Is Busy Dodging Commission.

PARIS, Dec. 14.—(By the Associated Press).—A formal agreement for a fight between "Battling" Siki and Georges Carpentier on a date yet to be fixed, but between February 15 and March 15, has been signed by Siki and his new manager, Charles Brouillet, says the Martin. Carpentier also would have signed but for the absence of his manager, Francois Descaume, who will affix his signature to the document Friday evening.

The bout will be for twenty rounds under the usual boxing rules. Four-ounce gloves will be used.

Meanwhile Siki is playing hide and seek with the French boxing federation, saying that he will not appear before its committee which is investigating the alleged fraud in the Siki-Carpentier bout in which the negro fighter miserably defeated the white man. The federation is still awaiting an answer from Siki to its last letter summoning Siki before the committee on Friday to make a statement.

TO BROKEN BY ROCKSSteamer Lies Under High Bluff With Bow Gone;
Crew to Be Sent Home.

The British steamer Orteric has been declared a total loss, and arrangements are being made to send the crew of the freighter home. Captain Harper, who was the last to leave the ship, was in conference with the underwriters today.

The Orteric was parted amidships between Nos. 1 and 2 holds, and owing to her position on the rocks and the heavy ground swell prevailing off Fish Rock, where she struck, there is no hope of her being raised. The crew of the vessel, which was taken off by the steamer Home, which went to the scene of the wreck yesterday morning.

The Orteric was proceeding to Eureka in ballast. Monday night when she was caught on the rocks, she was broken in two, and the bow, which was broken off, was taken to this port by the Clamnet and taken to Angel Island.

The Orteric was valued at $300,000, and it is understood that the owners, Andrew Weir & Co., carried no insurance on the vessel. The bow has been broken off, and the rigging is gone, according to latest reports from the vessel. To make matters worse she is lying on the rocks under a high bluff.

of factories and upstairs stores from coast to coast

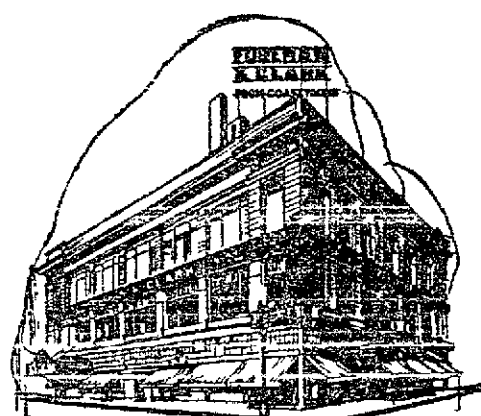

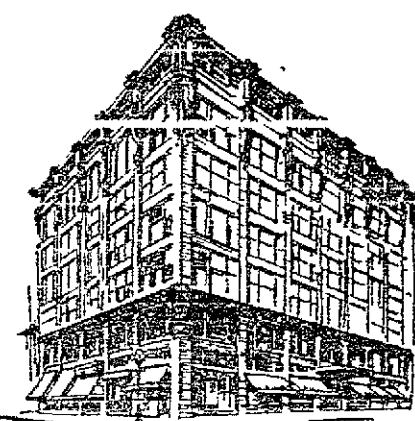

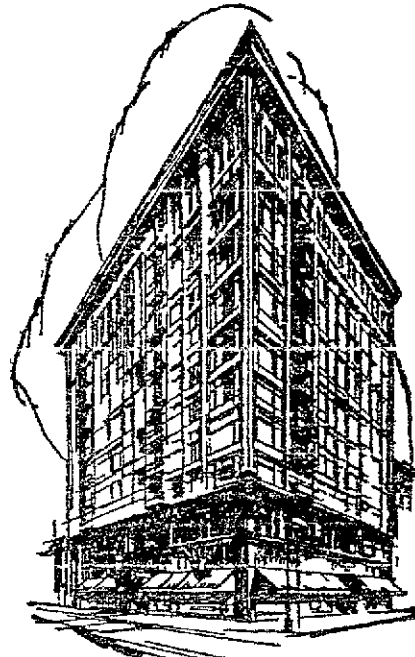

The Foreman and Clark clothing organization is the largest institution of its kind in the world. Some of our factories and upstairs stores from coast to coast are pictured here, drawn and reproduced from actual photographs. We cannot and do not sell you these buildings when we sell you a garment—and why (some will ask) do we show them in this advertisement?

Because they are the proof of our success and the reason for your saving! Because they are the sign of coast to coast responsibility. Because they are the resources which stand behind our enables us to

build, sell, and guarantee:

$10,000,000 guarantee of satisfaction. Because they are the bond which we put up when we take your money for a garment. Because they tell you that 500,000 men, in every corner of the country, are getting the same value, the same saving, the same guaranteed quality, that you get in Foreman and Clark clothes. Because they are the quickest, happiest, strongest proof that the public of America, which can't be fooled all the time or much of the time and certainly not for 12 continuous years, has lifted Foreman and Clark to their shoulders and made us the greatest clothing institution in the world.
